The Impossible

To dream the impossible dream, to fight the unbeatable foe.

To bear the unbearable sorrow, to run where the brave dare not go.

To right the unrightable wrong, to love pure and chaste from afar.

To try when your arms are too weary, to reach the unreachable star.

*This is my quest, to follow that star, no matter how hopeless,
no matter how far;*

To fight for the right without question or pause,

Dream

*To be willing to march into hell for a heavenly cause!
And I know, if I'll only be true
To this glorious quest, that my heart
Will lie peaceful and calm
When I'm laid to my rest.
And the world will be better for this,
That one man scorned and covered with scars,
Still strove with his last ounce of courage
To reach the unreachable stars.*

We Dedicate

The Class of 1968 gratefully dedicates its yearbook to Mr. Carlton C. Albritton, our Vice-Principal. His guidance and willing leadership have been a help to many troubled students. We are indeed fortunate to have been influenced by such an unselfish, hard-working man. In fact, it is he who has dedicated everything to us. With this small recognition, we thank Mr. Albritton for his leadership, and most of all, his friendship.

Principal's Message

To the Class of 1968

As you reach the end of your high school career, I commend you for all the good things you have accomplished and wish you well as you encounter a new phase of life.

Realizing that this unencountered phase is unpredictable, each of you, no doubt, has a dream—a goal which you hope to have realized. This dream may seem to be unreachable, yet this "impossible" dream may be possible if you are determined and prepared to meet its challenge.

Whatever your dream, it is essential to consider whether or not the goals you seek to achieve include an awareness, a concern, an understanding, a love for mankind. Should not each of us share this dream with its author Langston Hughes?

I dream a world where man
No other will scorn
Where love will bless the earth
And peace its path adorn.
I dream a world where all
Will know sweet freedom's way
And every man is free
Of such I dream—
Our World.

As you join the alumni of Fairhaven High School, I am sure you will find value in the lessons you have learned.

To the class of 1968, may your highest dream become your achievement in life.

Carlton C. Albritton
Acting Principal
Fairhaven High School
February, 1968

The class of '70 entered school this fall eagerly anticipating the first of three years in Fairhaven High. The year has passed swiftly bringing many enjoyable experiences along with the meeting of old friends and the making of new. The traditional "Sophomore Slump" has passed and we are now at full strength for the final two years.

The sophomore class' initial project was the sale of chocolate Easter Bunnies, which proved very successful.

After pausing a moment to think of the year that has passed, we now look ahead to our next two years; to all the experiences which we are yet to encounter that will assist in the molding of our future.

This year as Juniors, the class of '69 made a substantial profit selling fruit cakes. The members of the class felt distinguished upon the arrival of their rings in November. Everyone in the class is looking forward to the prom in May, and since it's leap year the boys better watch it. The class feels that this year has helped to prepare its members for their future years ahead.

Football

Captain Gilly Vieira drives for yardage.

In 1967 Fairhaven High School began its new season under a new coaching staff. Richard Arieta, the head mentor, was advised by two new assistants, Milton Rice and Louis Klaiman. Elected as team captain was Gilbert Vieira.

The Blue Devils opened its abbreviated season by defeating Old Rochester. Constant injuries and bad breaks throughout the season brought about a record of three wins and five losses. Nevertheless, F.H.S. produced a spirited team which proved to be a tough opponent.

Ban won't wear off!

That one's good

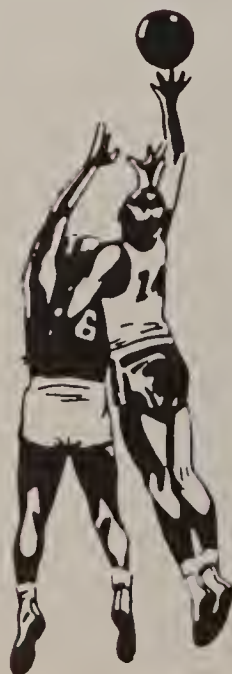

Where did it go?

Early in the season many critics regarded the Fairhaven Five with pessimism. With the return of only two varsity starters, it seemed improbable that the preceding, undefeated season would be reasonably duplicated. Fortune, however, graced the 1968 performances on the basketball courts.

The Blue Devils reclaimed their titles as monarchs of the Capeway Conference by going undefeated in that league. Three non-league contests, however, were dropped to the opposition. The guidance of Coach Wilson proved to be the major factor in uniting a squad that was esteemed by the student body.

Tech Tourney Squad

After completing the regular season, Fairhaven High School participated in two other contests. For the benefit of the Athletic Department, the Blue Devils challenged the Capeway Conference All Stars. With the absence of Lester Smith and an early injury to Jim Hart, Coach Wilson was compelled to utilize his versatile bench. In spite of defeat the players presented themselves as worthy opponents for the best in the league.

The second post-season contest was the Tech Tourney game against Sharon. Fairhaven arrived at the neutral court with the epithet of underdogs. Sharon High had the height advantage as well as an advantage of healthy personnel. The Blue Devils defied the odds and fought valiantly, only to suffer a bitter two-point defeat. Nevertheless, pride and spirit still remain for the 1968 basketball team.

Baseball 1967

Coach Wilson gets his point across to Lester.

During the 1967 season the Wilsonmen compiled a record slightly over the five-hundred mark. Many of the losses were attributed to a patchy defense.

On the bright side of the season were the stellar performances on the mound by Gilly Vieira and Daryl Manchester. If these athletes duplicate their feats in 1968, Coach Wilson will have a satisfying record bettering that of the previous year.

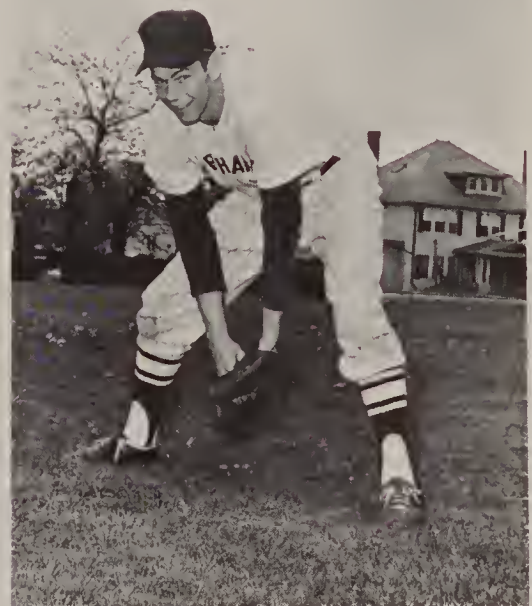

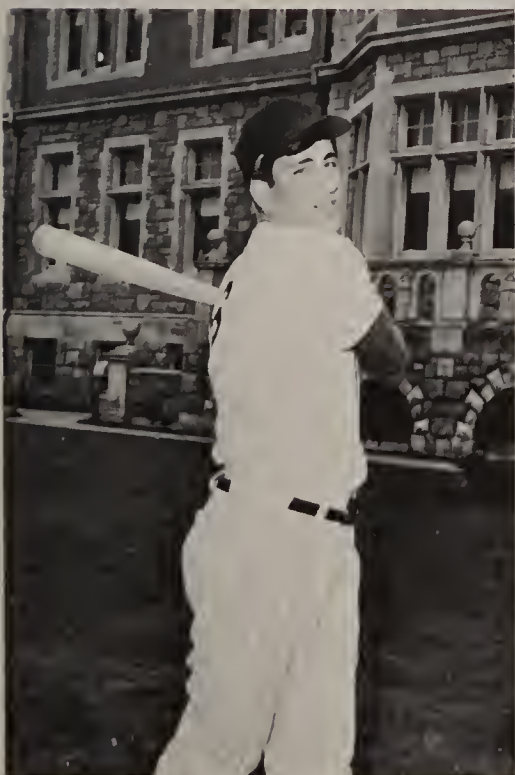

It's hard going on one leg.

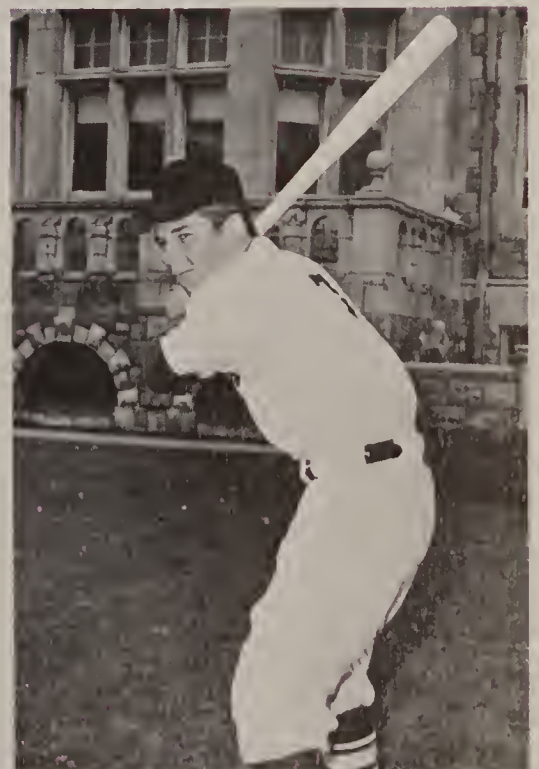

Cheer up Jim; it's only the first inning.

Throughout the spring the track squad was in contention for Capeway honors. In the league's first dual meet, under the lights at Falmouth, the deciding meet took place. The Clippers snatched the Blue Devils' hopes, but a series of strong showings will return to haunt Lawrence High of Falmouth.

Returning in 1968 will be veteran runners in the sprints, middle distance and distance departments. Each of these boys will be seeking revenge for their tainted pride. The field events loom as a most improved department adding a strong element of depth and balance for Coach Milt Rice's team.

Besides this spirited contest F.H.S. hopes to outdo their previous performance as runner-up in the Belmont Relays. At the State Meet, Dave Mendell hopes to steal the gold medal for the 880. There will also be other, potential state champions to round out Fairhaven High's representation in 1968.

"How's my form, Bob?"

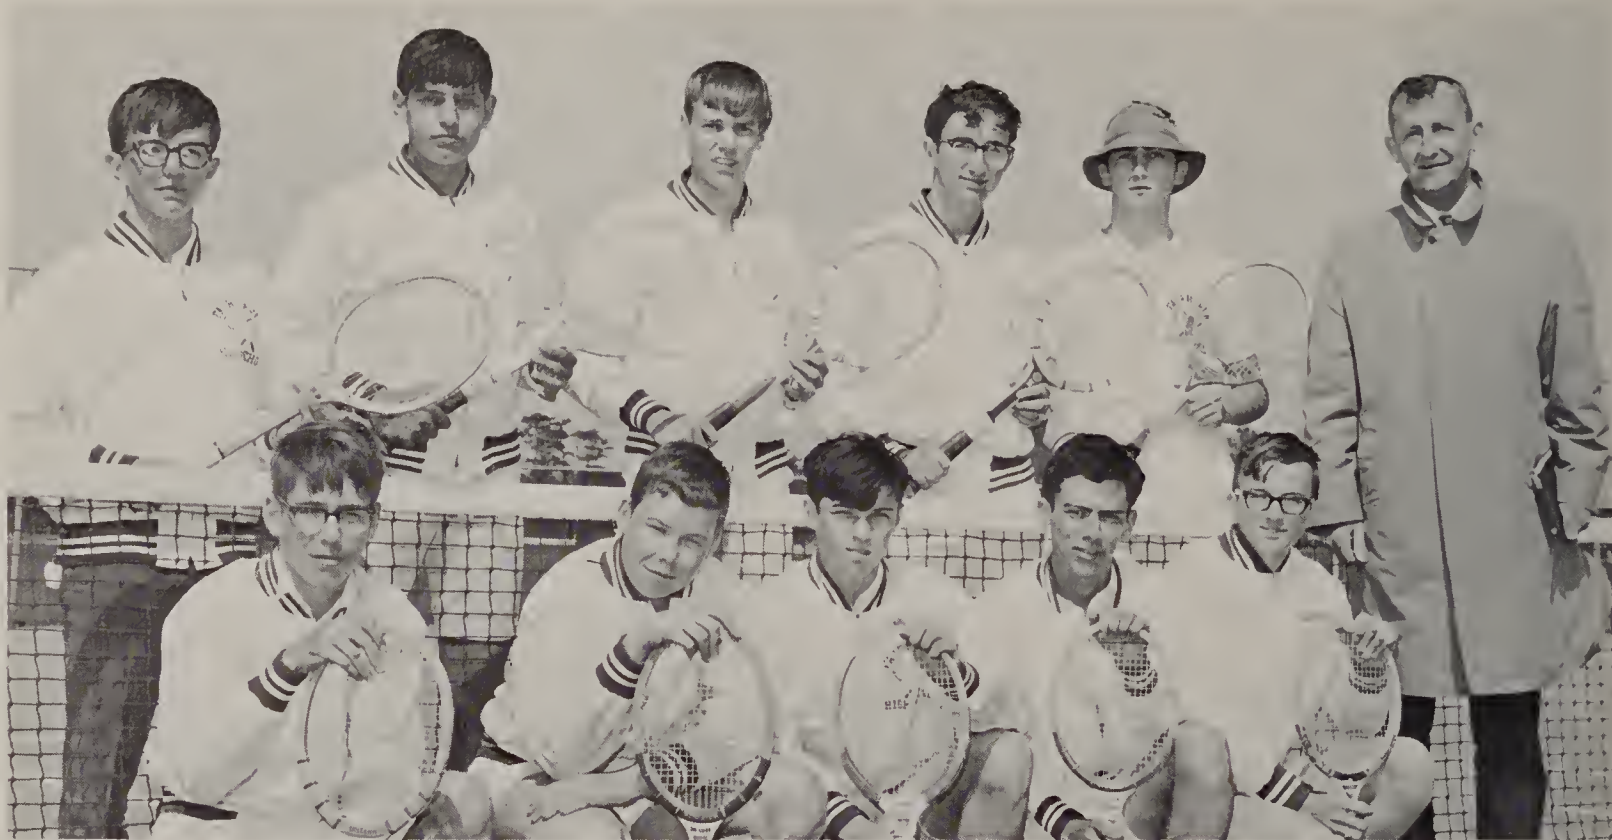

The golf team sustained a disappointing season in 1967. The squad comprised a majority of underclassmen who hope to better their record of one win and eight losses.

Despite the losing season the boys cultivated a respect for sportsmanship. This year Coach Arieta expects his players to make a better impression at the New Bedford Country Club.

Junior Prom

The auditorium had been transformed into Camelot May 12, 1967, the night of the Junior Prom. Blue and gold streamers cascaded from the ceiling and brilliant shields lined the walls to create a romantic mood reminiscent of the court of King Arthur.

Queen Linda Younger, who was crowned by Cynthia Desroches, the queen of last year's prom, reigned over the medieval paradise with her lady-in-waiting, Dona Morgan. The members of the court, Jane Ashley, Susan Bouley, Joanne Fitts, Judy Gifford, Ruth Henriques, and Joyce Jacobsen, assembled around the throne as Jeffrey Silva, President of the Junior Class, led the couples in the traditional Grand March.

Eleven o'clock broke the spell of enchantment as an enjoyable evening came to an end.

Junior Day

June 9, 1967 was a perfect spring day for the Junior Day exercises. It was a day of mixed feelings as the juniors happily accepted the responsibilities of leadership and the graduating seniors sadly departed from Fairhaven High.

The entrance of the Juniors, each wearing a traditional yellow rose, to Sullivan's "Entrance and March of the Peers" marked the beginning of the program. They were followed by the silent, pensive seniors, who marched to Baptiste's "Entre de Procession."

Diane Houle, the senior viola soloist, played Schubert's "Ave Maria." The Mantle Oration, symbolic of the handing down of leadership, was delivered by Barbara Bouchard, President of the Class of 1967, and accepted by Jeffrey Silva, President of the Class of 1968. Frederick Bradley performed Mozart's "Piano Sonata No. 7" as the junior solo.

Mr. Charles C. Entwistle, headmaster, presented the scholastic awards to those students who displayed outstanding academic achievement during the past year. The Juniors commended were: Lynn Birtwistle, James Fortin, Susan Lockwood, Joan Medeiros, Barbara Neve, and Janet Ring. Steven Isherwood received the Harvard Book Club Award and Patricia Wojcik, the College Book Club Award, for their outstanding leadership and citizenship.

The Senior Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy DiDominico sang "I May Never Pass This Way Again" by Wizell and Melsher and Russell and Night's "The Halls of Ivy" to end the program. The seniors exited solemnly to Mendelssohn's "Cornelius Festival March" and the juniors to Sullivan's "Entrance and March of the Peers" to mark the close of a tradition long to be remembered by the Class of 1968.

cers and Executive Board

Mother told me there'd be days like this . . . Heh-heh-heh!

We, the graduating CLASS of 1968, began our high school career as the first class to attend the new ninth grade addition at Fairhaven Junior High School. We chose as our first class officers: Jeffrey Silva, president; Joyce Jacobsen, vice-president; Susan Bouley, secretary; Steven Isherwood, treasurer. As Freshmen we presented our first class play, "The Gift of Laughter" by Earl J. Dias. In this initial year the Chester M. Downing Jr. Honor Society was established with Mr. Leo Goguen as our class advisor. The Freshman Dance, "Anchors Aweigh," brought the year to a climax.

Our Sophomore year brought us to Fairhaven High School at last. Our officers were: Jeffrey Silva, president; Patricia Wojcik, vice-president; Steven Isherwood, secretary; Susan Bouley, treasurer. Mr. Charles Foley led us in a most successful class project of selling magazines.

As Juniors we became more diversified in our activities. We elected as our class officers: Jeffrey Silva, president; Patricia Wojcik, vice-president; Steven Isherwood, secretary; Susan Bouley, treasurer. We had another successful class project of selling fruit cakes. After waiting long, we received our class rings. In March, some of our classmates were inducted into the Fairhaven High School Honor Society. Those initiated were:

History

Jane Ashley, Lynn Birtwistle, Ann Darden, James Fortin, Steven Isherwood, Joyce Lucia, Joan Medeiros, Janet Ring, Gaye Whiting, and Patricia Wojcik. On May 12th, we held our biggest social event of the year, our Junior Prom. Those who ruled over the land of "Camelot" were: Linda Younger, Queen; Dona Morgan, her lady-in-waiting; and the members of her court, Jane Ashley, Susan Bouley, Joanne Fitts, Judith Gifford, Ruth Henriques, Christina Jacobsen, and Joyce Jacobsen. On Junior Day we received the responsibilities of our school. Jeffrey Silva accepted the mantle of leadership from the departing seniors, and we became the full-fledged upper classmen of Fairhaven High School.

Our final year arrived, and to lead us, we chose Jeffrey Silva, president; Steven Isherwood, vice-president; Joyce Jacobsen, secretary; Patricia Wojcik, treasurer. Toshihiro Takagaki was our exchange student from Japan. We presented our class play, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," in March. With the Senior Prom on June 7th, our Banquet June 10th, and our Commencement Exercises June 12th, we came to the end of our high school career. Thus, we began the realization of "The Impossible Dream."

Class of 1968 Will

AFS Student

Toshihiro Takagaki, affectionately known as "Tosh", is our foreign exchange student from Japan. At first overwhelmed by American mannerisms and slang, "Tosh" has now become totally "Americanized".

Tosh is involved in our school by participating in music groups, attending most sports events, and generally adding his enthusiasm to all school functions.

From throwing snowballs to cramming for exams, Tosh has had a full year of enrichment at F.H.S., which we hope has given him many warm memories.

Senior Play

On March 22 and 23 the Class of 1968 presented "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," under the direction of Miss Susan Trafton. The play, based on Mark Twain's book, tells of the adventures of a 20th century yank who is transported back to Camelot.

The cast includes: Hank, Arne Ness; Marion, his sister, Victoria Churchville; Mrs. Bennet, his mother, Gaye Whiting; King Arthur, James Fortin; Queen Guenevere, Joan Medeiros; Merlin, Andre Lafferiere; Clarence, Eli Braley; Elaine, Joan Laferriere; Sir Sagramor, Bruce Medeiros; Sir Lancelot, John Gobell; Sandy, Joyce Jacobsen; Morgan Le Fay, Connie Lacerda. The prompters were Ann Darden and Jane Ashley. Michael Amaral was student director.

"Aren't you laying it on a bit thick?"

"Sit ye fop, else I smite thee down!"

Well, if it isn't a shoelace, it's the biggest worm I've ever seen.

FHS builds characters.

Punch it at 'em, Fred.

HELP!!!

Try to stop us!

Like Mother used to make . . .

The last time I was in Grenoble with Bette Davis ...

It was a dry day ...?

Rushing to lunch ...

Aren't we pretty?

O.K. What's the story?

Linda and Steve

Daryl, you ham!

Cloud nine?

Please Mrs. Noyer! I'd rather do it myself!
